

Prophecy given to Barbara Miller at 5:00am April 10, 1999 at Waynesfield, Ohio

My children, how long will you sit idle? How long do you intend for Me to strive with you? You who are here and know the Lord Jesus in a personal way know exactly who I'm talking to.

You, my Church, New Hampshire [UMC], yes you. My people if you just would wake up and realize how much I love you and care for you. Come on people, wake up, sit up, get ready. You have been sleeping long enough. You are well rested. I know life is difficult. Who would know better than I? I know you feel overwhelmed, discouraged, confused about what you can do and what My will is in your life and in this Church. But, I came to you today with a message of encouragement and hope. Please look around you. Really look at your brothers and sisters in Christ. You are my chosen people to be here as a congregation at this time. I know each one of your hearts. I know your strengths and I know your weaknesses. I know your physical pain, I know your mental anguish. Rise up my children, this is your time! Get ready, I am going to pour My Spirit out on all who are ready to receive it. Search your hearts. You know that I have spoken to several of you and you have not listened or did not realize it was Me speaking and prompting you in a ministry I have chosen especially for you. I know, my children, the business of your life. I know the demands on many of you are great. But, you are a congregation of people, and if each does his or her part, you will be surprised at how easy it will be. Wake up my sleeping children. Rise up and do the work I have called you to do.

Before this can all be accomplished, there are things – baggage – that you must get rid of. As a Church and individually. As a Church; negativism, back biting, jealousy, and unforgiveness. Repent my children for the time of repenting is at hand. This has to be your first step as you awaken. From there, be ready to move in whatever direction "I" lead. Stop, look, and listen. I will be leading you as a congregation and as individuals. But, all will work together for my calling for this Church.

Search your hearts, your spirits and your souls. Learn what you have been personally called to do. Some of you know already, don't you? My love for you is greater than you can imagine, but it's time for you My Church to share that love with your community and friends, loved ones, coworkers, neighbors – because the time is NOW for this Church! Don't procrastinate, I will not strive with you much longer. If you want to be my disciples the fields are ready to be harvested, but you must GET READY, REPENT and MOVE!

PRAISE GOD!
